Open House with Laura Ingalls Wilder

We were blessed with nice weather and the buildings were busy. Jessica Michna portrayed Laura Ingalls Wilder at two programs at the church at which about 50 people attended. She presented Laura at the age she was when she wrote the "Little House" books.

Ice Cream Social

A beautiful day brought out over 200 visitors to enjoy ice cream with strawberries. Miss New Berlin, in tiara and banner, helped President Dave Totten and the children make ice cream the old fashioned way. All kids got a free cone. The barrel train made many trips through the Weston orchard while adults toured the buildings and enjoyed the music of the "The Misfits". Some folks stopped at the log house to learn a bit about spinning from Karen Keene.

Weston Pig Roast

Ken Weston put on his third Annual Pig Roast to benefit the Weston Antique Apple Orchard Foundation. The Society opened the historic buildings for those who came to eat. They were serenaded by the "Blue Grass Allstars" band as they enjoyed the meal. Ken's event draws a different crowd, mostly from the Milwaukee area, which allows us to introduce new people to New Berlin's history.

Buildings and Grounds Activity

The City is installing three permanent benches along our walkway. One of them has been donated by the Prospect Lions Club. The benches will be a great place to take a break and watch what is happening on the grounds during Open Houses or watch the sunset on any other evening.

The three ceilings in the Winton/Martin House have been replaced and all rooms painted. Mary Winton Green, a descendent of the original Wintons, covered the cost of those repairs. She also paid to have the stained glass window in the History Room repaired. Mary has donated other monies over the years to keep her family's history alive. We truly appreciate all she has contributed.

The Museum building has been painted and the parking lot, with over 20 spaces, is slated to be completed this Fall. What a joy that parking lot will be!

If you've driven past the Park lately, you will have noticed the blue tarps covering much of the log house. Many of the original logs need replacing along with much of the floor inside. We apologize that it will not be open for touring this season but it should be complete for the 2018 season.

We can't thank the City enough for everything they have been doing.

Southeast Regional Meeting

President Dave Totten, his wife Joan, and Board member Sue Hemmen attended the meeting held at the Hoard Museum in Fort Atkinson. The topic was how best to assess and accomplish restoration or preservation of artifacts. It was a very informative meeting.

Tours and School Days in September/October

- St. Paul's School will be visiting for school.
- The Model A Club is coming to tour the buildings.
- Sixty students from Poplar Creek will come for school all day.

Corn Roast

In addition to helping the Prospect Lions on the 4th of July, a few members again worked at the New Berlin Lion's Club corn stand at the State Fair, something we always enjoy doing, and it's for a good cause.
